

SJRVFF WELCOMES JAMIE CLOUS

Jamie Clous grew up in Cadillac, MI fishing many of the local streams and rivers. He later went to college at Northern Michigan University where he earned a degree in business all the while honing his skills on the wild trout of the U.P. It is also where he started what would become his full time career as a guide. Moving back to the Cadillac area after 6 year in the U.P. he had "a real job" long enough to realize it was not what he wanted to do forever. With the support of his wife and family, Jamie started out guiding for Fullers North Branch Outing Club on the AuSable River where he became head guide. He later moved to his current fly shop at Old AuSable Fly Shop where he brings a life time of local knowledge and 11 years of guide expertise to the table. Jamie will be getting us looking forward to some warmer weather with a presentation on May hatches.

I hope everyone had a good holiday season and survived the brutal cold of late. In the realm of fly fishing I had an interesting holiday. I got to share a bit of my passion for the sport with a couple of my family members in very similar but very different ways. First, my father-in-law and then one of my nephews.

My father-in-law is planning to retire later this year and has talked about trying this fly fishing thing I talk so much about. So my wife and her siblings talked me into "guiding" him on a trip to some of the local waters around Indianapolis. I know several streams reasonably well down there so I agreed. I threw together a small box of some of my favorite smallmouth flies and made up a gift certificate looking thing and presented it as part of a larger gift from the family.

As he opened the box containing of a dozen different gifts from the family, he pulled out the fly box and gift certificate and put everything else to the side. He was like a kid getting a new bike, but slower and with much less squealing. It was very gratify to see that excitement.

The next day I got out my little indoor casting rod with light cotton rope for fly line and yarn for leader. It's a great little toy for casting in the living room when its too cold to be on the river. It's also great for working out those bad habits in your casting stroke. In this case, it was a great way for me to introduce my father-in-law to casting a fly rod instead of a spinning rod. We proceeded to work on the up-stop-forwardstop motion of the cast. And we worked. And we worked. I'd forgotten how hard it was for me to get past the muscle memory of casting conventional tackle. How hard it is to STOP the rod and let the line roll out behind you and then in front of you.

My father-in-law was getting pretty frustrated until my sixyear old nephew, John, walked in and asked if he could try. I taught him how to cast when he was only three and he actually had a pretty good stroke with that little rod. I wasn't sure he'd remember how now that he was twice as old. Sure enough, he grabbed the little rod and made about two bad casts before he started throwing nice tight loops across the living room. My father-in-law was watching closely and then asked John what he was mumbling. John replied "my name grandpa. I say my name when the rod is straight up before I cast it out."

Little John is taking full credit now for teaching grandpa how to cast. This summer I'll get them both out on the river and see what happens when something pulls on the end of that line. I wonder which one will act more like a little kid hooking his first fish.

EIGHTH ANNUAL TIE-A-THON

On April 12th members of SJRVFF, members of Kalamazoo Valley Chapter of Trout Unlimited and many others, will come together to tie flies for the following three worthy causes:

The National Fishing in Schools Program (NFSP) is a 501(c)(3) not-forprofit designed to promote fly fishing and traditional tackle fishing among school kids within Michigan, Indiana and beyond. The "Fishing in Schools" program accommodates students irrespective of gender, physical ability or natural aptitude. The program's objective is to teach students in grades 6-12 'how to fish' in school gymnasiums. A core two-week foundation curriculum unit for Physical Education teachers is the norm. It addresses four National Academic Standards (PE, science, language arts & technology.) The complete curriculum meets six. For more information, check out www.flyfishinginschools.org

The Kalamazoo Valley Chapter of Trout Unlimited (KVCTU) is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization. KVCTU will use its flies for their educational fly fishing camp. The KVCTU is hosting the Michigan Youth Trout Camp July 6-July 10, 2014 at the Ralph A. MacMullan Conference Center on Higgins Lake, in the heart of Northern Michigan trout country. The four-day Camp is designed to educate 12-16 year old boys and girls, who will become our next generation of conservation leaders, about the importance of protecting our coldwater resources. Campers will learn that how we choose to use our land can affect the health of our streams, our trout, and ourselves. For more information, check out www.kvctu.org.

Warriors and Quiet Waters (WQW) is an organization dear to both Tie-a-thon founders, Tim Scott and Terry Wittorp. WQW is also a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization. Its mission is to provide traumatically injured U.S. servicemen and women from Iraq and Afghanistan with a high quality restorative program, utilizing the therapeutic experience of fly fishing on Montana waters.WQW brings wounded warriors to Montana for a six day program of fly fishing and recreation. Most warriors who come are still in rehab in the military hospital system. Once there, they have the opportunity to relax and to learn to fly fish in the quiet and beautiful surroundings of Montana and neighboring Yellowstone Park. For more, check out www.warriorsandquietwaters.org.

This is a good time to get a jump on your flies. You don't have to be an expert tyer to donate flies and you can certainly donate more than 100. Many first time fly tyers have participated; this gives you a chance to become very good tying at least one fly. If you need help learning a pattern; contact Tim

Scott, and he will be happy to give you a lesson. As in the past, the Elkhart Conservation Club has graciously donated the use of their main building.

These are the flies to tie: (tie 100 flies of one pattern)

Intermediate Fly Tying Class

This will be a seven week class on tying proven fly patterns for the local area and beyond. Classes are once a week for seven weeks starting the first Tuesday of February at the Howard Park Senior Center. The cost for nonmembers of SIRVFF is $30.00. For members the class cost is $5.00. The class is limited to 30 people. SJRVFF will supply all the vises, tools and materials to tie during the class. If you have your own vise and tools, please feel free to use them. For more information please contact Jeff Stanifer or Dustin New.

To sign up and pay for the class, contact Rose Kauffman at the Howard Park Senior Center, (574) 235-9428 or hpseniors@aol.com.

2014 FLY TYING SEMINARS

At this time we have Kevin Compton lined up for February to be a guest tier. Kevin will be tying for us on February 15th. Kevin is the owner of Performance Flies out of the Cleveland, Ohio area. If you haven't been to the Performance Flies web site (www.performanceflies.com) you are missing out on some of the most cutting edge materials available. And Kevin knows how to use it all. He was the 2006 runner-up in the Team USA National Fly Tying Competition sponsored by Fly Tyer magazine. In September of 2006, he traveled to Portugal to the World Fly Fishing Championship where he contributed flies to the US competitors. Since 2007 he has tied for members of Team USA at the National Championships and the America's Cup. He'll be spending a day showing us some of the tricks of his trade. There are still two spots available for this class so get your reservation in if you want to take part.

The tier for March will be announced as soon as we get schedules worked out.

If you tie flies but have never attended one of the tying seminars you are missing out on a great opportunity to learn from some of the best tiers around. New techniques, refinements, new materials and a general broadening of your knowledge base are all there for you to experience. Come spend a Saturday by the warm fire and learn a thing or two.

Those attending the seminars will need to have basic fly tying skills. All tiers participating will need to bring their own vise, tools, lamp (if needed), and thread. Materials will be provided by the guest tier and we will provide donuts, lunch and drinks with your class fee. The seminars will start at 9:00 am and should conclude by 4:00 pm with a break at noon for lunch. This all happens at the Elkhart Conservation Club's main building. The cost for the seminars is $50.00 and is open to all who want to attend until the spaces are filled. Typically there is a limit of 15 tiers per class.

Please contact Todd Ezzell at m3plus2@hotmail.com or 574-202-0255 if you need more information or would like to reserve a spot.

READY FOR THE APRIL AUCTION?

Yes, its only January but, if you're like me, something like the April auction can sneak up on you if you don't spend a little time preparing. Your preparations might include building a nice little two weight rod that I've been wanting. Or picking up an extra bobbin at the fly shop to donate for the auction. Or hitting up your favorite guide or lodge for a donation to the club. Maybe its starting to squirrel away a few bucks a week so you'll have plenty of cash available on the big night. What ever your preparations are, its a good time to start.

Our Auction Team is well on its way to making this year's auction as good as ever. Get in touch with Terry Wittorp if you plan to donate something special or can help him out.
